

Diffuse Coevolution and Multiple Scales:
Simon A. Levin

This talk will not describe work already done, but will instead try to lay out some challenges, and point out some similarities in understanding normative punishment to the problem of diffuse coevolution. Specifically, both phenomena involve the interplay among processes operating at very different scales of organization, as well as at different temporal and spatial scales.