Sketch of Reflexive Game Theory
Vladimir A. Lefebvre

This work gives a short description of the theory of agents endowed with reflexion and some applications of this theory for modeling human choice. Unlike classical game theory, this theory has been constructed for prediction of the agents' real choices rather than the optimal decision making.